

Souls Full of Shadows

“There’s a place for us, some where a place for us. Take my hand and I’ll take you there, take my hand and we’re almost there. Somewhere, Somehow, we’ll find a new way of living, we’ll find a way of forgiving...Somewhere.”

These lyrics from the movie Westside Story still haunt me because they represent the heart cry of our human family at the beginning of civilization. Adam and Eve lived with God not by faith but by sight in the Garden, until they fell. Then for the first time in their lives they stood with their children outside the Garden looking in. The entrance was now blocked forever by a Holy Angel with a flaming sword.

Adam and Eve no longer had the privilege of this relationship by sight; walking and talking with their Creator. Now God would become the God who asks each of us to remember Him by Faith alone, because as sin and time progressed we would no longer be able to live by sight. Only the righteous can live by sight and humanity no longer was righteous.

The song lyrics above encapsulate the cry of mankind’s heart. The memory of a place somewhere and a need for forgiveness to go back home was still alive. Because in the beginning of their dispersion they were still human and the vestiges of the knowledge of being made in the Image of God was alive in their minds.

But with the passing of time sin began to run its inevitable course and humanity changed; until every thought they had was evil among them all. And they soon forgot the God who had created them. God had said, “I will not dwell with mankind forever”. The day had now become night. They no longer had light and their minds were focused only on themselves and their own desires. Their Souls became filled with shadows.

They had become followers of the god of this world, a fallen Angel of Light named Lucifer. The darkness soon became so addictive and thick that humanity could taste it and drink it as they now lived within the womb of Sin. They waited, nourished by the umbilical chord of mankind’s deceiver. They waited to be born into their forever 2nd death.

Humans living in the Lost World now lost the potential for love, kindness, righteousness and the goal of Holiness. Their reflections of Gods character were now gone forever.

So God said it is enough and tears that were older than the rain came from fallen eyes. Only the haunting echoes of the song lyrics remained as one world became lost and a brave new world began fresh with 8 people; Noah, his wife and his 3 son’s and daughter-in-laws.

In the lost world, God had called out to humanity for a thousand years through the preaching of Enoch, Methuselah and then through Noah. Noah stood in faith among scoffers and preached for 120 years of a coming judgment by flood. There never had been a flood, or rain. Yet Noah was obedient to God while he built a building that would float. The scoffers who knew sin intimately but knew nothing of rain came to Noah's place daily to see the show and laugh.

Then the prophesied day came. They watched in amazement as the invisible hand of God raised the door to the Ark and shut it, and the unbelieving world no longer had any hope of Salvation. They continued to come to the building for 7 days more to laugh. Until the tears of God fell and they were no more.

God already in Prophecy said the time will come again when He will say, enough and deformed humanity will no longer exist. The greatest story ever told will come to its final ending. Everyone will go to the place they have chosen. Everyone will receive a new body, one that is fitted for living eternally. Those that have lived by faith will now live by sight before a Holy God forever in Heaven.

Those who lived without faith will see God only once by sight to be judged for their sins. Then they will live without sight, alone, in darkness forever...outside the presence of God.

Today as in the days of Noah, the echoes of the worlds original heart cry are faint. The memory of a place somewhere and a need for forgiveness to go back home is gasping for air on its death bed, barely still alive. Time is running out. Souls that were born with light are now souls full of shadows waiting the coming night.

The following song lyrics of Michael Card represent the cry of reason in a world gone mad.

"We are not scattered strangers. We are one and we are free. Though we have broken faith and are divided, we are a family.

It's time we wept together for the time we've been apart, for our hatred of each other and our stubborn hearts.

We need to weep each others tears, and then maybe we would understand...that we are one family."

Wonderful words of hope, if humanity would but wake up...but its not going to happen. God's prophetic ending to our story is upon us.

There is an end to Gods Mercy and Grace...and its coming.

As I write these thoughts to you, I am on a cruise ship. Its night and I am standing outside on the balcony watching the water as I have now for 6 days. All I can hear is the water lapping alongside the ship.

It's very quiet and still. The sky is filled with stars and the Sun has gone to sleep. The moon is full and bright in the sky as it continues to fulfill its purpose since time began. To reflect the light of the sun, so there might be light in the darkness.

The light from the moon reflects a path along the water inviting me to step out onto the water and follow its path to the moon. It's tempting because the water looks solid like black slate. My eyes and heart say step out, it's solid and take a walk to the moon.

But my mind knows better. It's an illusion inviting me to follow the lights reflection along the path that will lead to my death.

God has given you a mind to think with and to reason with. As long as you search for the truth with your emotions you will be washed too and fro by the waves of false doctrine. The facts of Gods truth, His written autobiography, His written History of the past, present and future of His Creation and Humanity and the Second Coming of His Son are all there for you to understand.

The only thing lacking is for you to humble yourself ask for forgiveness and He will make your heart new again. The growing shadows will flee before Him and you will have peace in the knowledge that your name is written on the palm of Gods hand. He will never forget or forsake you during the coming storms.

Every path in life begins with a choice, a first step in a direction along two different paths that end at two different forever places.

Being out here at night looking out over this vast body of water brings to mind the historic account we have recorded by God in the Bible of the Lost World. A world so evil, that it brought upon itself the Judicial Judgment of God.

The Creator stepped in and said "No More" and decreed the termination of an entire race of people, with the exception of 8 human beings. The record of this Lost World is contained within the sediment layer that encases the earth one mile down. This layer varies from 20 to 40 miles thick. It should not be referred to as the "Fossil Record". For it is the record of the Extinction of Humanity for turning its back on the God who created them.

The flood was a purposeful act of extinction that speaks of a Sovereign Creator who controls and judges His Creation. The Creator in His Mercy chose to save only 8 people from that world. And just as Adam and Eve had a fresh canvas to paint on so did Noah and his family as they entered into the Brave New World.

When you stop to think about it everyone that has lived on this planet since the flood, came from one of the lines of Noah's three sons. Our ethnic lines can all be traced back to one of them but not any further back than that. Every myth, every legend that we have today began from the time of Noah. Every fossil bone fragment, tooth, skull etc. comes from the sediment containing the people, animals and plant life that existed in the Lost World.

The secular world claims Herodotus was the father of history, yet Herodotus lived during the time of Isaiah the Prophet recorded in the Bible. The well known books of the Odyssey & Iliad made up of a mixture of legends, myths and history were written by Homer who was a living contemporary of Samuel.

Every spade put into the Middle-East comes out verifying the history and truth of Gods Inerrant Word. So while mankind's recorded history goes back to Herodotus, Gods recorded history continues to go back into time 1,200 years earlier and then into eternity past.

Whose account of history do you believe...mans or Gods? Do you view Gods history as flawed and inerrant? Today there is a faint echo of the worldwide flood that destroyed the Lost World. This echo can be found in the records of 240 nations that recorded the flood in their legends and history.

The Chinese pictograph used for the word flood is in the shape of a boat with 8 sticks in it. Over 90 % of the 240 nations mention 8 people in a boat during their flood accounts. 85% of those 240 nations say the boat contained all the animals.

Coincidence....I don't think so.

Science has confirmed that there is nothing left on the face of the Earth that can be dated earlier than 4,000 to 5,000 years old.

However, God has left us a grave marker rooted deep within the Lost World. They are called Redwoods. These eternal trees have been dated back 3,000 years or 1,000 years before Christ.

These trees are rooted deep within the sediment layer of the Lost World. They stand as a silent grave marker, a constant reminder of Gods continued mercy to those who would but look UP to HIM in AWE and WONDER for Salvation.

God has preached to our Brave New World for thousands of years since the time of Moses. The message has never changed. It is about the coming of His Son, the Messiah to save all those who would come to Him for Salvation. Jesus became the un-common man...the God / Man...the man of All Sorrows who bought you with His Blood.

Our Brave New World is in serious trouble. God, not me, has made it clear that judgment is coming again because God will not be mocked. Nor will He spare the un-godly.

When He comes will you be standing outside the Garden staring at an Angel of Light with a sword of fire barring your entrance into heaven? When He comes will you be standing outside the door of the ARK as you watch the invisible Hand of God close the door barring your entrance into heaven?

Are you a Scoffer who mocks God and His Inerrant Word? Do you know for sure in your heart of hearts that Salvation is yours and you now are written in God's Book of Life and that He holds you in the palm of His Hand?

So what do we do?

We believe God, live for Him and Stand alone among our peers. We trust His Word given to us through the Prophets and the Apostles. We expect Scoffers, people who will ridicule our faith.

We learn to defend our faith and Stand Alone remembering that He is always there with us. We who believe in Him are never alone. There is one Bible verse that stands boldly before this Brave New World we live in. The verse is like a huge rock that will pulverize this world in a coming collision.

Mark 8:36 (in context Mark 8:35-37) Amplified Bible. “What good is it for a man to gain the whole world (and its goods), yet forfeit his soul (his life in the eternal Kingdom of God)?”

Continue to speak and preach to all who will listen to you. Then PRAY like you've never prayed before, for all those you love, to wake up. The people of the Lost World all died in the flood. This time God has promised to purge Sin from this world by fire. Our Brave New World sits like a frog in a pot filled with water on a stove not aware that the heat is being continually turned up...until the frog is no more.

“Look to Me ALL you ends of the earth!
For I AM God and there is no other”
